

Squadra

Communication system for Ice hockey referees

THE OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION SYSTEM FOR ICE HOCKEY REFEREES

VOKKERO® Squadra is a communication system developed to meet the requirements of professional Ice hockey referees. It is composed of a set of mobile radio terminals with a wide selection of microphone headsets and accessories.

VOKKERO® Squadra is the latest addition to the line of VOKKERO® hands-free communication systems. Already being used at the highest levels of International sports, VOKKERO® with its adoption by the prestigious Kontinental Hockey League, is now becoming the PREMIER communication system for ice hockey officiating throughout the world.

The primary features that distinguish VOKKERO® Squadra include:

- Improved optimization of audio quality and noise filter.
- Substantially reduced overall size with low profile case and internal antenna.
- Extremely quick and simple touch-screen configuration interface.
